Chris: Hi Li. What's that?

Li: It's a crystal ball. I got it for my birthday.

Chris: A crystal ball – what's that for?

Li: I can look inside it and see what the future holds 看看你的未来运程。

Chris: See what the future holds? I doubt it!

Li: Let's have a go. I am going to make predictions about your future 预测你的未来。

Chris: I don't believe in fortune-telling. But I'll do it anyway – this could be fun. Go on.

Li: (Looks into crystal ball) Hmm... Ah... Oh... Oh...

Chris: This is ridiculous!

Li: Oh, I can see a man... a man...

Chris: Oh yeah? What's he like?

Li: Oh no, this is not good... I can see an intruder 一个入侵者。

Chris: Really? An intruder?

Li: Yes, and I see you... you're scared... you're terrified.

Chris: Hmm... What could it possibly mean? What else can you see?

Li: I see... that he takes something from you.

Chris: He takes something from me?

Li: Ssshhhhhh! Chris, can you hear that? I can hear footsteps...

Chris: There's someone in the house!

Li: Oh! It could be a burglar... 可能是盗贼。

Chris: Maybe this is the intruder you saw in the crystal ball.

Li: The crystal ball was right!

Chris: And you said he takes something from me – maybe he's going to rob my house!

Li: We need to hide...

(Li and Chris hide under the table.)

Rob: Helloooo? I let myself in - the door was open. What are you doing under the table?

Chris: Oh, Rob! You scared Li... she thought you were a burglar.

Rob: Sorry, I just wanted to borrow your DVD player. Mine isn't working.

Li: It works! It really works – there was an intruder, and he did want to take something from you! Rob, I'm going to predict your future now!

Rob: Oh!
